

DESIGN

- Design compatible with AAF Design M Fabripulse baghouse collectors
- Assembly comes with helix tubes mounted in 12-gauge tubesheet frame complete with gasket
- Design features 42 helix tubes constructed of Spunbond Polyester media laminated with ePTFE membrane
- Soft polyurethane molded top features a patented high-flow nozzle to reduce turbulence and drag and to increase cleaning efficiency

FEATURES

- Up to 180° F continuous use
- Decreased Air-to-Media Ratio results in lower pressure drop and longer life
- All helix tubes contain an inner support core and do not become tangled due to rigid construction
- Smooth surface of Spunbond Polyester and ePTFE membrane yields excellent dust release characteristics
- Advanced media is more efficient in capturing submicron dust particles (0.3 micron and larger), resulting in lower emissions
- Cleaner air, longer filter life, and greater cost savings
